School Plan/Trust Land Budget Review:

Mrs. Pickett: Our school plan pushes the kid to excel. Its nice coming to a school where there is a real plan and goals set up.

Another $5000 was donated for the stem lab. Looking for things that will help kids think outside the box. Plans for cupboard space which is important for teachers to put away projects and be able to come back to them where they left off. Furniture and a Lego Wall are in the works. Hopefully have enough $ by the end of the school year to finish over the summer.

Community Topicse it ho

Parking Lot Safety: new signs have been ordered to mark off the bus zone for the medically fragile kids. A teacher will be out in the morning to direct cars not to park in the bus zone. Stickers will be put on cars for friendly reminders if they are parked in zones they shouldn't be parked in. Student Council could make a video about safety or stand outside to remind parents.

6th Grade lunches: They were running out of food by the time they get to lunch. Were short handed at the beginning of the year but hopefully should be ok now.

TSSA money was granted to each school and they decided how to use it. Our school used it for an ELA coordinator. Some districts used it for teacher salaries but it was a one time “grant” so they won’t be able to necessarily sustain the increase. Bo wanted to know how much was allotted. Mrs. Pickett will check on it.

Reminder from Mrs. Pickett that the district is focusing on being the 1 to each child. Every kid is one adult away from being a success. Suggested watching Josh Shipp and his Ted talk.
